

Higher Education Achievement Report

(Diploma Supplement)

This Higher Education Achievement Report incorporates the model developed by the European Commission, Council of Europe and UNESCO/CEPES for the Diploma Supplement.

The purpose of the Supplement is to provide sufficient recognition of qualifications (diplomas, degrees, certificates etc). It is designed to provide a description of the nature, level, context and status of the studies that were pursued and successfully completed by the individual named on the original qualifications to which this Supplement is appended. It should be free from any value judgements, equivalence statements or suggestions about recognition. Information in all eight sections should be provided. Where information is not provided, an explanation should give the reason why.

King's College London produces HEARs in a digital format. Only HEARs accessed via www.gradintel.com can be considered valid and verified.

1. Information identifying the holder of the qualification

1.1 Family name: [REDACTED]

1.2 Given names: [REDACTED]

1.3 Student identification number: [REDACTED]

HESA identification number:

HUSID (HESA Unique Student Identifier) is the unique national identifying number for students registered at a UK university. It is defined by HESA, the UK's Higher Education Statistics Agency.

2. Information identifying the qualification

2.1 Name of qualification and (if applicable) title conferred: Not yet awarded

2.2 Main field(s) of study for the qualification: Psychology

2.3 Name and status of awarding institution:

King's College London, established by Royal Charter in 1829 and a recognised body with taught and research degree awarding powers.

2.4 Name and status of institution (if different from 2.3) administering studies: As awarding institution

2.5 Language(s) of instruction and examination:

Teaching and assessment at King's College London is in English, except for programmes of study involving language studies, where some teaching and assessment is in the relevant language(s).

3. Information on the level of the qualification

- 3.1 HESA level of qualification: First Degree with Honours
- 3.2 Official length of programme: 3 years
- 3.3 Access requirement(s):
King's College London admits students of the highest calibre, who have the academic potential and the motivation to develop their knowledge and skills within our learning environment. The College encourages applications from candidates from all backgrounds regardless of economic and social circumstances, and it evaluates each applicant based on their individual merits and ability to succeed on our challenging courses. More information can be found in our Online Prospectus.

4. Information on the contents and results gained

- 4.1 Mode of study: Full Time
- 4.2 Programme requirements:
Founded in 1950, the Department of Psychology at the Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology and Neuroscience has grown to become one of the world's largest grouping of psychologists undertaking research and education in the areas of clinical and health psychology, in neuropsychology and neuroscience, developmental psychology and forensic psychology.

The Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Psychology at King's is accredited by the British Psychological Society. The programme draws upon the expertise of the Institute, the NHS and a wide range of world-leading researchers and practitioners across King's, from neuroscience to the social sciences, in order to present multiple approaches to the application of psychological science. It is designed to reflect the key role of psychology within interdisciplinary research. The course will ask students to apply insights from this research to a variety of contemporary problems. Students will be required to develop their analytic, critical thinking and problem-solving skills along with their core scientific knowledge.

More information on the structure of our programmes can be found on the Programme Specifications and College Regulations web pages.

- 4.3 Programme details, and the individual grades/marks/credits obtained:
Programme start date 25 September 2023

0-39 Fail

Module Grades

P – Pass

F – Failed

D – Deferred

DT – Deferred to the following year

CF – Condoned Fail (although failed, the Board of Examiners has awarded credit)

CR – Awarded credit

CC – Condoned Credit

R – Failed required to resit

RT – Failed required to resit with attendance

AB – Fail due to absence

Q – Fail

W – Withdrawn

PD – Pass with Distinction (MB BS, BDS, AKC only)

PM – Pass with Merit (MB BS, BDS, AKC only)

Information detailing the Grading scheme for taught programmes may be found in Section 3 of the Academic and Related Regulations.

- 4.5 Overall classification of the qualification (in original language): Qualification not yet completed

5. Information on the function of the qualification

5.1 Access to further study:

Our graduates follow diverse career paths, matching the diversity of specialisation possible in their final year. Many graduates enter a variety of professional and business careers, some not directly within their field of study. Others undertake postgraduate study in preparation for a research or academic career. Our degrees prepare students for a range of careers, and provide them with the training and transferable skills that are important for a wide range of occupations.

5.2 Professional status (if applicable):

This programme carries an accreditation from the British Psychological Society (BPS)
Additional information: <http://www.bps.org.uk/>

6. Additional information

King's College London has an agreed set of achievements recorded on the HEAR that are outside the academic curriculum. This section includes prizes won by the student and all items have been verified by King's College London. Other activities, work experience and achievements undertaken by the student may be recorded elsewhere for example in their CV. Information on the criteria for the inclusion of items in section 6.1 can be found at www.kcl.ac.uk/hear.

6.1 Additional information:

6.2 Further information sources:

King's College London is one of the world's leading universities with a distinguished history and an acknowledged reputation for contributions to modern life; particularly in the areas of science, medicine, healthcare, social science, education, law and the arts. It is dedicated to the advancement of knowledge, learning and understanding in the service of society. Its aims are:

- To provide students with a range of intellectually stimulating and challenging programmes and courses, and enable them to develop their knowledge and skills;
- To attract the very best students in terms of ability and potential, and provide those students with a world-class learning experience;
- To uphold an outstanding reputation for providing world-class teaching and cutting-edge research;
- To maintain its reputation for friendliness and inclusiveness, and continue to emphasise its tradition of working 'in the service of society'.

We are determined that through our research and knowledge transfer, we will consciously strive to provide a lead to economic, social and cultural regeneration.

8. Information on the National Higher Education System

Description of Higher Education in England, Wales and Northern Ireland

In the United Kingdom (UK), Higher Education (HE) is a devolved matter, with political oversight provided by the UK Government and Parliament (England), the Scottish Government and Parliament (Scotland), the Welsh Government and Parliament (Wales), and the Northern Ireland Executive and Assembly (Northern Ireland). HE provision is offered by many different types of institution that are active in teaching, research, and scholarship. The term includes all publicly funded universities and other HE institutions, alternative HE providers that offer HE courses but do not receive annual public funding, and further education colleges in England and Wales, which offer HE level courses.

Degree Awarding Powers and University Title

The power to award degrees is regulated by law in the UK. Those organisations granted the power to award HE degrees are referred to as 'Recognised Bodies', and a full list of these is published by the UK Government. It is an offence for an organisation to purport to award, or to offer a UK degree, unless it is authorised to do so. Degree-awarding bodies often work with other providers that do not have degree awarding powers to deliver provision which leads to a qualification of the degree-awarding body. The Listed Bodies Order confirms the providers that do not have the powers to award their own degrees, but offer programmes that lead to a degree of a Recognised Body (see <https://www.gov.uk/check-a-university-is-officially-recognised>).

Qualifications

Previously there were two parallel frameworks for HE qualifications of UK degree-awarding bodies, one that applied to Scotland and one that operates in the rest of the UK:

- The Framework for Higher Education Qualifications of Degree-Awarding Bodies in England, Wales and Northern Ireland (FHEQ)
- The Framework for Qualifications of Higher Education Institutions in Scotland (FQHEIS).

These frameworks were the principal national reference points for academic standards in UK HE. However, providers in England, who are no longer required to use the FHEQ, now have to meet the Office for Students' conditions of registration and align their qualifications with the OfS' sector recognised standards. These sector-recognised standards do not formally reference the QF-EHEA or the other frameworks in use across the UK. Consequently two tables, provided by the QAA on behalf of the UK and Ireland Qualifications Frameworks and Policy Group, are now provided for use within the HEAR to support providers to align UK qualifications with the QF-EHEA.

Quality Assurance

Academic standards are established and maintained by HE institutions themselves, using an extensive and sophisticated range of shared quality assurance approaches and structures. Standards and quality in institutions are underpinned by the use of external examiners, standards agreed and recognised by the sector, by the activities of the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, by the Office for Students in England and in professional areas by relevant professional, statutory and regulatory bodies.

The sector standards are supported by the Quality Council for UK Higher Education, formed from partner organisations, providers and national HE regulators.

A cornerstone of quality arrangements across all four nations is the UK Quality Code for Higher Education. It is a key reference point in the quality approaches for Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland

In England, providers need to comply with the Office for Students' Regulatory Framework and Conditions of Registration. Engaging with the Quality Code is voluntary for providers based in England, except for those providers reviewed against the Quality Code using the Educational Oversight Review (EOR) method

England

The Higher Education and Research Act 2017 (HERA) drives the regulatory and legal requirements of HE in England. The legislation can be found at <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2017/29/contents/enacted>. This Act established the Office for Students (OfS) and gave it responsibility for regulating the English HE sector. Its primary focus is the student interest in its duty as a market regulator. The OfS is responsible for risk-based monitoring of indicators relating to the baseline quality and standards of provision. It maintains the Register of HE providers in England, and implemented a regulatory framework in February 2018: <https://www.officeforstudents.org.uk/publications/securing-student-success-regulatory-framework-for-higher-education-in-england/>.

Degree-awarding bodies in England must be registered with the OfS and meet all ongoing conditions of registration in order to retain degree-awarding powers. The OfS has express powers to revoke degree-awarding powers for HE providers in England if conditions of registration are not maintained.

Northern Ireland

Funding for HE is directly provided by the Department for the Economy in Northern Ireland.

QAA has been commissioned by the Department for the Economy (DfE) to develop an enhancement-led quality review method for higher education in Northern Ireland.

The new review method will provide confidence to DfE, students, staff and the public in the quality of higher education provision in Northern Ireland, whilst supporting higher education institutions to enhance the quality of the student academic experience. The review method is being developed in collaboration with the higher education sector in Northern Ireland and QAA expects to produce a proposal paper on the new review method for DfE by September 2024.

Scotland

The Scottish Funding Council (SFC), a non-departmental public body, is the strategic body responsible for funding Scotland's teaching and learning provision and research. Scotland takes an enhancement-led approach to quality assurance with its Tertiary Quality Enhancement Framework (TQEF), which focuses on the whole student experience and its enhancement rather than on quality assurance alone. This is built on partnership and collective engagement between a number of bodies including the Scottish Funding Council, QAA Scotland, the National Union of Students (NUS), and Universities Scotland. The TQEF requires both rigorous institutional activity, using external reference points, and external review on a seven-year cycle, known as Tertiary Quality Enhancement Review (TQER.) Institutions must demonstrate how they meet the expectations of the Quality Code, which is confirmed as a formal part of TQER.

Wales

The Higher Education Funding Council for Wales (HEFCW) is the Welsh Government sponsored body responsible for regulating the Welsh HE sector. From 1 August 2024, HEFCW will be replaced by a new Welsh Government sponsored body, the Commission for Tertiary Education and Research which will be responsible for overseeing post-16 education and research in Wales. The QAA undertakes Quality Enhancement Reviews of regulated HE providers every six years under the Wales Quality Assessment Framework. For more information, see:

<https://www.qaa.ac.uk/reviewing-higher-education/types-of-review/quality-enhancement-review>.

The Commission will be working to the same 6-year cycle – arrangements with QAA to continue as they are for at least the next couple of years up to the point when CTER gain the powers to consider the option of appointing a designated quality body.

Credit Systems

A number of integrated credit frameworks operate within the UK: the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF) and the Credit and Qualifications Framework for Wales (CQFW), both of which are underpinned by the same principles, such as the definition of one credit as 10 notional hours of learning.

The FHEQ is a qualifications framework, based on the outcomes represented by the main qualification titles; it is not an integrated credit and qualifications framework, nor does it use depend on the use of credit. Not all degree-awarding bodies in England use credit in the same way, therefore. Some may not use credit at all, and some may use the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) to support student mobility within Europe and award ECTS points rather than UK credit. Nevertheless, credit is widely used by most degree-awarding bodies in the UK. An advisory Higher Education credit framework for England has been in use since 2008. The credit framework is written for HE providers in England as a description of the typical practice developed across the sector and to provide a reference point for those wishing to introduce or consolidate their use of credit. The SCQF and the CQFW are integrated credit and qualifications frameworks, which means that they specify minimum credit volumes and levels for qualifications. The SCQF embraces all educational sectors, with the FQHEIS as a constituent part; and the CQFW is a meta-framework for credit and qualifications in Wales, embracing all post-14 education and training, and treating the FHEQ as a constituent part. The credit arrangements in the FQHEIS/SCQF apply to all degree-awarding bodies in Scotland. All degree-awarding bodies in Wales have agreed to use the credit arrangements stipulated in the CQFW, in relation to the FHEQ.

Admission

UK HE providers determine their own admissions policies and the minimum entry requirements for each programme. For Bachelor's degrees, the minimum entry requirement is usually two or three General Certificate of Education Advanced-level (GCE A level) passes, as well as a minimum number of General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSE) passes at grade C or above. These remain the most common form of entry qualification held by young entrants to HE. Other appropriate qualifications may also provide entry, e.g. the International Baccalaureate, the Welsh Baccalaureate, Scottish Highers, Advanced Highers, or qualifications at the same levels of the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework and Edexcel BTEC National Qualifications. The Universities and Colleges Admissions System (UCAS) tariff establishes comparability between different types of qualification across the UK using a points system.

provides another route for mature entrants. Most institutions also welcome applications from mature candidates who have had appropriate experience but may lack formal qualifications, offering credit for prior study and informal learning acquired through work or other experiences (Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)).
